

What is Title 1?

- Title I, Part A of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA) provides financial assistance to states and school districts to meet the needs of educationally at-risk students.

How our school receives Title 1

- First, the federal government provides funding to each state.
- Then, each State Educational Agency sends money to its school districts.
- How much money each school receives is determined by the number of low-income students attending that school. That determination is made from the Free/Reduced Lunch forms that we ask every family to submit at the beginning of the year.

How does our school assist educationally at risk students?

- Identify the students at the school who need the most educational assistance based on pre-assessments and weekly progress reports.
- Differentiate groups instruction in Reading, Spelling, and Math
- Provide double-dose or triple-dose instruction for students who are at greatest risk.
- Provide extended-day instruction and, when funding is available, after school opportunities.

How does our school assist educationally at risk students?

- Measure student progress to determine the success of the Title I program for each student.
- Develop programs for each individual student in order to support/supplement regular classroom instruction.
- Collect and review targeted and school-wide program and assessment data for growth and achievement trends.
- Set annual school improvement goals for improving the skills of educationally disadvantaged students.

What is a Title 1 stakeholders meeting?

- The Title I Stakeholder Meeting occurs every summer. It includes select administrators, staff, and parents. Some of the responsibilities of the Stakeholder Meeting participants:
 - Discuss use of Land Trust funds
 - Review End-of-Year Data for Annual School Goals
 - Review Parent Involvement Policies and Compacts
 - Participate in Accreditation Interviews and Monitoring Visits (when scheduled)

How can I get involved?

- By becoming an active participant in the Title I parent involvement plan at your school, you will:
 - Serve as a role model, showing your student that you support his/her education.
 - Volunteer at the school
 - Attend parent meetings, including parent-teacher conferences
 - Know the information in the Parent-Student Handbook
 - Comply with the Parent Compact and assure that your students comply with the Student Compact

How can I get involved?

- Assure that you are aware of your student's educational progress; thereby demonstrating how important that progress is to you.
- Communicate with your student's teacher regularly, and keep them informed about events which may affect his/her school performance.
- Teach your student that your input at the school is appreciated and that you support its efforts.
